Alma Mater

Oh Conemaugh with spacious halls and campus bright and green,
Our fondest memories will remain in each endearing
scene,
We'll ever pledge our loyalties, devoted hearts to you,
To Thee our Alma Mater, we'll ever more be true.
Hail, hail to the Red and Black,
Hail to our school with a cheer,
We give our best to Conemaugh,
Whose fellowship we hold so dear.

Administration and Faculty

Doctor Blough, Mr. Berkebile, and the faculty have played a very important role in our journey through the years. Their excellent supervision and guidance has given the Class of '57 a fine start on the road to success

SUPERINTENDENT'S MESSAGE

According to the thinking of many seniors, Conemaugh Township High School has always existed. It is difficult to believe that nineteen years ago less than half of our community young people entered high school, and only a small percentage graduated. We had no secondary school of our own. These teenagers were tuition pupils at one of nine area schools. They often felt that they didn't belong; they were outsiders.

You are fortunate. As you join our growing CTHS alumni group, numbering nearly 2,000, you are blessed with a tradition and a heritage. We challenge you, therefore, to make a genuine contribution to your own future well-being, and add to the luster of Conemaugh Township by walking upright and looking the world squarely in the face.

As you go your way, we pray that you will find yourself well equipped for the task you accept. We hope, too, that our community school has helped you find security of mind and peace of soul. Now, in turn, it is your responsibility to join us in building better schools for a better America. We will need your help.

Please remember: Better to light one candle than to curse the darkness

God bless you every one.

Telford B. Blough

Dr. Telford B. Blough

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

Innumerable things happen from the time one humbly enters public school life until the climax of school citizenship that is reached when caps and gowns are worn as symbols of a type of achievement

Youngsters entering high school and adolescence may be regarded as uncut diamonds. Their beauty, brilliance, fire and potential usefulness exist but are more or less hidden. These greatly varying personalities are going through religious, social, physical and mental experiences which, collectively, are known as education. Diamonds in their rough natural form are valuable—but possess much greater potential worth. A finished product can be produced only by careful cleaving, tedious sawing, judicious cutting and monotonous polishing. Since diamonds are inanimate, a slip in cleaving or other damage is irreparable and reduces their value.

In "human gems" growth toward perfection comes not on the surface but from within. Teachers, parents, priests, ministers, and friends provide environmental factors that may be used in the fashioning process. Since only that which is studied, absorbed and practiced shapes adolescents, each individual determines his own pattern that finally crystallizes into some kind of a jewel. Mistakes do not bring ruin—they can be utilized, fortunately, for improvement. Heeding the admonitions and teachings of those who have preceded you, who have gone through the polishing process, should bring out in each "gem" its best qualities. How well the facets of each personality flash and reveal beauty from within will indicate how each individual has reacted with the environment

CLASSES

SENIORS

There have never been so many students at Cone-maugh Township in its entire history as there are this year. Approximately 130 students will graduate from the senior class. There are also approximately 840 underclassmen.

Walter G. Shank

Elizabeth J. Will

Congratulations and best wishes to you, Class of '57, as you stand at the threshold of a new phase of your life. Your past twelve years have been a priceless experience that you will look back upon with fond memories.

Apply with diligence your very best to the future as your life is what you yourself make of it.

Walter G. Shank

To the 1957 Graduates

As you sign these yearbooks, your busy school-days at C.T.H.S. are just about ended. Now, new opportunities in many fields are opening before you. So many of you have been willing, cooperative members of your class that I feel sure you will continue to achieve success. With my sincere appreciation for all that you have done and in hope that the future will be bright for you, may I borrow the words of this poem:

"I wish for you —

Patience, good temper, fine ideals and clean,

A faith to face the future all serene:

A broader view that sees beyond the trivial to the whole,

A trust that knows heaven's goodness in control,

And God to guide you—body, mind and soul!"

JUNIOR CLASS

This was the year of the Junior Class Play and the Prom. They represented "blood, sweat and tears." Our officers Fred Blough, Anthony Mosco, Jane Punchak, and Mary Ann Danko were efficient and hard working. Mrs. Stamer and Mr. Koski were cooperative and teachers. One more year to go — how has a — strange — and new. We are proud of our achievements. We are excited to become seniors but are really happy that our school careers are coming to a close?

DEPARTMENTS

Some of the departments we are going to visit in the next few pages are the Mathematics, English, Commercial, Science, Vocational, Agriculture, and Social Studies. All of these important departments help to make up the curricula of our school

COMMERCIAL

Are you interested in a business career? Typists, file clerks, clerical workers, bookkeepers, and private secretaries—all of these phases of business training are offered in the CTHS Business Department. Go into the leading stores, the banks, the down town insurance offices and you find your ex-classmates happily and profitably engaged in commercial activities. We have a number of people doing behind the scenes jobs in private industry; we have several air line hostesses and government workers. Yes, Conemaugh Township is making its mark in the world of business. Some of our classmates have already begun work, and more of us have interviews and will soon be a part of the business scene.

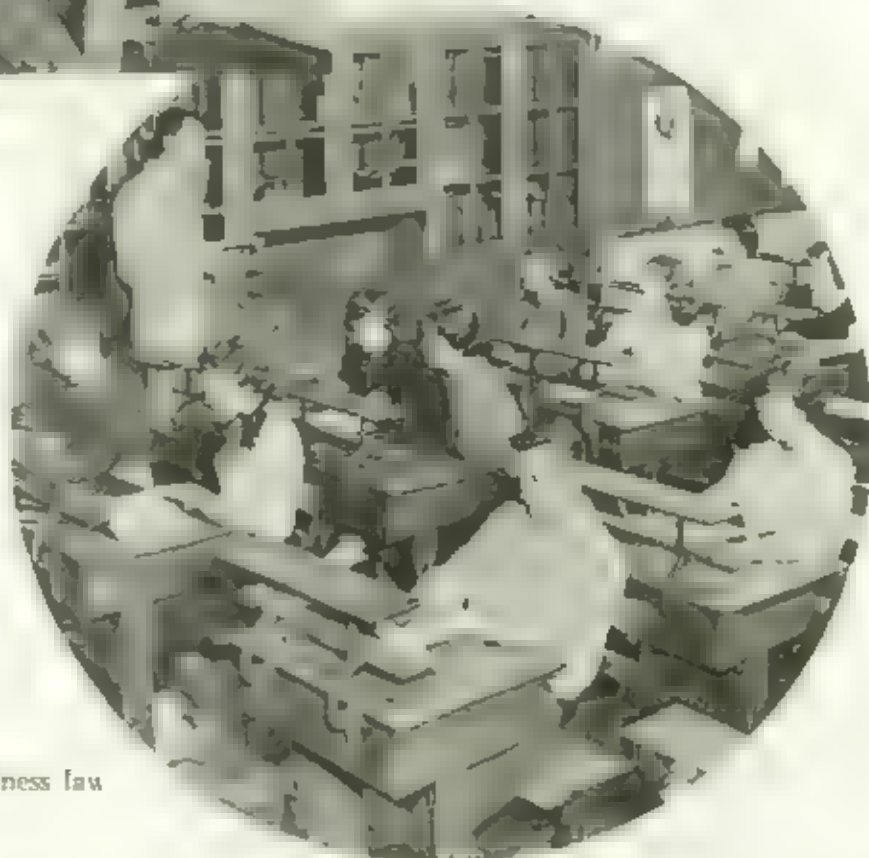

We will miss our school—our good times—but we are ready and well prepared for our entrance into the world of business.

Filing is one of the jobs of a future secretary.

Clean and neat is a must in business.

Business law is a popular subject in business law.

ELECTIVES

Some of the students take electives to try to learn more than their course requires or to increase their knowledge beyond their chosen field. The electives shown of this page are Physical Science, Anatomy, and Retailing

Retailing helps us to get a better report on business

Mr. Drenner keeps this physical science class busy

Anatomical plant structure is explained in detail in anatomy class

MATHEMATICS

_____ shows his trig. class what he knows

The days of animal and human muscle power are a thing of the past

Machinery, more complex with each succeeding year, is the theme today. We are fast entering a period of automation. Come on — you would be engineers!

These young pupils have just begun their careers in math _____ are _____ lying the universal language —

LANGUAGES

Spanish is the language of the people of the people of the border.

Traveling through our classes, we come in contact with foreign languages. Many of our students, preparing for a collegiate career have taken Spanish or Latin. These languages have helped us to broaden our interest and knowledge of the customs and languages of other countries.

Some of the many activities of the Latin Class are the Roman Banquet; prefects, sent to the Science Fair; and correspondence with pen pals. For many students, taking Spanish was an exploration into the unknown. The study of Spanish may be very helpful to some students, for many of them may be taking trips to our neighboring countries or other Spanish speaking countries. This class is a jovous one, even though there are troublesome verbs in the language.

The highlight of Latin is the Roman Banquet.

How would you like to be a Roman?

SCIENCES

Molecules, atomic structure, scientific method, force, friction, phylum, anatomy. . . . These terms ring a bell for the seniors as they recall the trying times in their study of the sciences

Truly this is a scientific age, for today there are few phases in living that do not depend upon the scientist for aid or explanation.

Development of scientific curiosity, increased realization that science is all about us, and the application of science to our daily life, form the guiding principles in teaching the varied scientific subjects offered to our students in their educational trail at CTHS

Sharing in the work, education, and fun with the senior students this year were Mr. Kaufman - chemistry, and Mr. Drenner - biology and anatomy

Jerry and Judi are doing an experiment in chemistry

Snakes don't scare them

Physics is very interesting

SOCIAL STUDIES

We Americans have learned through wars, depressions and peace that we must understand and befriend, not only our neighbors, but the people and cultures of the total world. America has become a haven for every race, creed and political ideology.

Today it has reached the summit in strength and prosperity. Students in history are naturally interested in this development of America in strength, ideals and institutions.

Since our manner of life continues to change, due to scientific, economic, political, and social development we must continue to readjust the content of social studies courses in our schools.

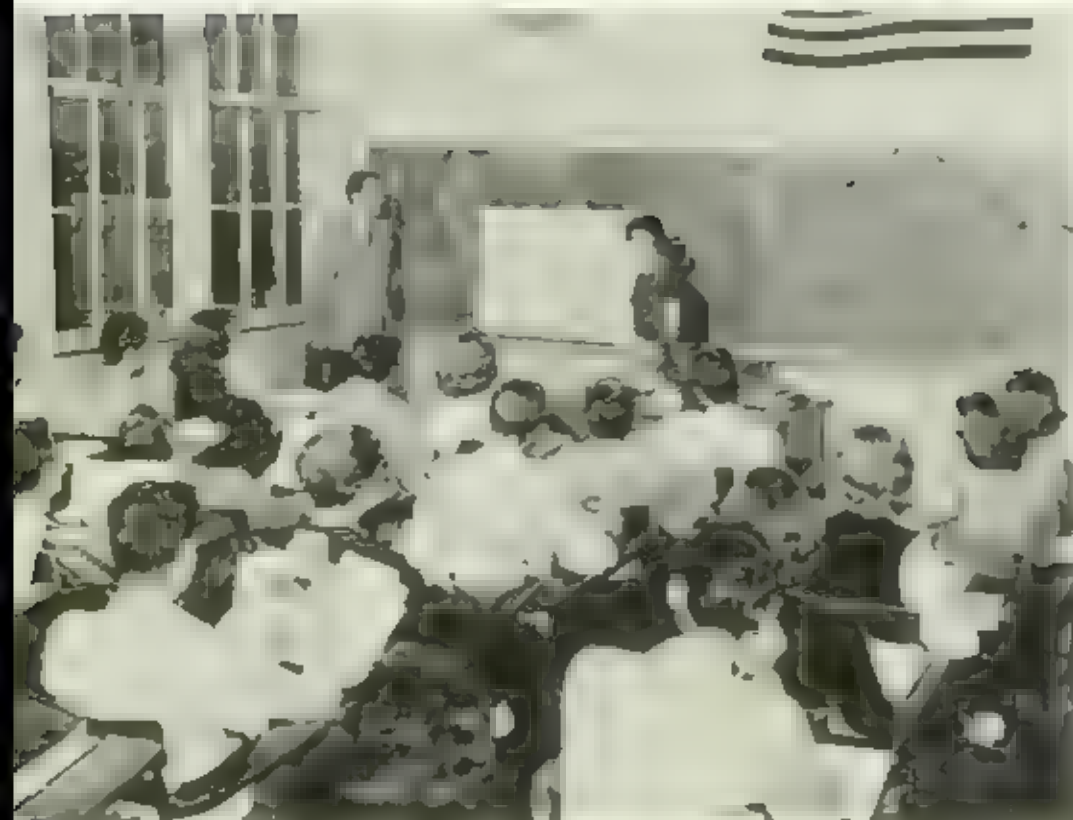

The future of our nation depends upon whether we are receivers or givers in our Democracy.

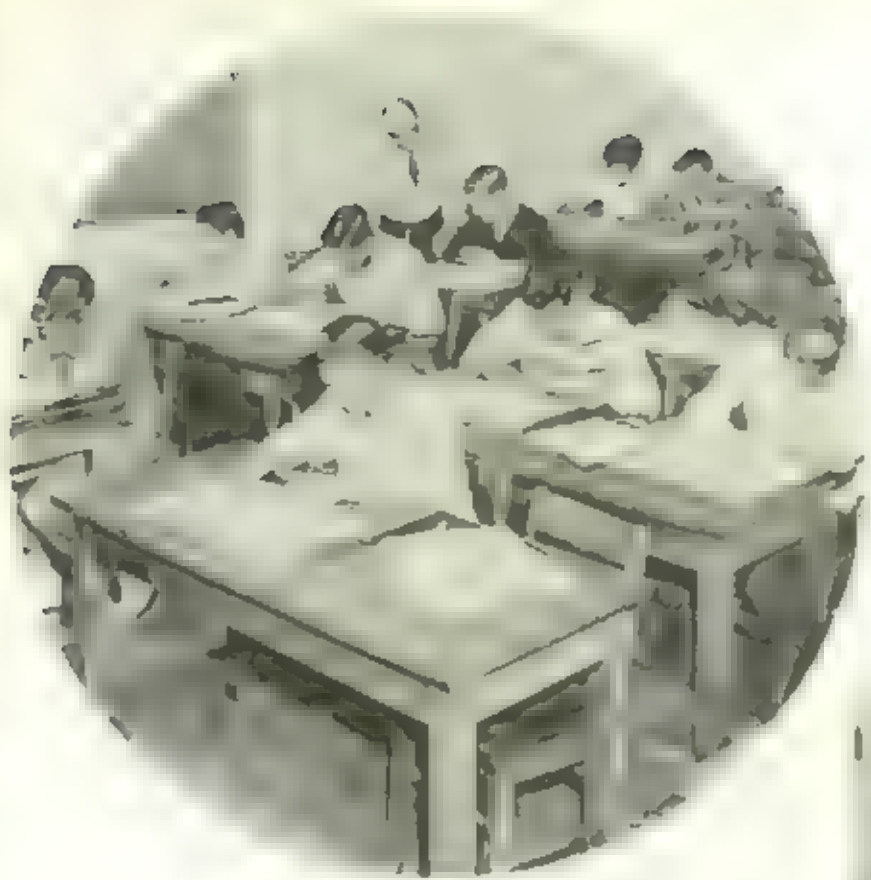

What do you think of the foreign situation?

How do you learn about the people of our country?

Why explain the rise and fall of the Roman Empire?

The Future Farmers and their teacher

VOCATIONAL AGRICULTURE AND WOOD SHOP

The vocational education of the nation is in the hands of those boys who are learning to be farmers. They receive their experience from classes of general study, crop production, politics, and learning how to operate and repair farm machinery. They are responsible for the maintenance of the farms and the stability of the high school and college graduates. They also have a great deal to do with the future of our country.

DRIVING

Students enrolled in driver education are taught how to drive safely and lawfully. No other subject taught in our schools provides the learner greater satisfaction than learning, as a member of the traffic pattern, to exercise the attitudes, habits and skills of a good citizen. It should be a required course in the senior high school.

Driver education is a practical and applicable subject. The knowledge and experience gained from a driver education course can be applied during the high school days as well as in the future. To realize this end each student spends approximately thirty-two hours in the classroom, eight hours behind-the-wheel and eight hours as an observer.

To prove the effectiveness of driver education, some of the nation's insurance companies are issuing policies at reduced rates to individuals who have taken a driver education course.

Students in driver education class.

HEALTH

Students in health class.

One part of school responsibility for the health of children is the program of health instruction which is carried on by the teaching staff.

The emphasis at all times has been placed on functional health — establishing good health habits and proper attitudes and appreciations toward health.

To define Health we can say: Health is a state of complete physical, mental and social well being and not merely the absence of disease or infirmity. Good health results not from just reading about it in a textbook but from daily practice of good health habits.

Physical education class is a time for sports and games, for the dance, stunts and tumbling. But physical education is more than just fun. It is also a time for learning. You learn rules about games and to understand to co-operate with your fellow classmates.

Miss Lohr is the guidance counsellor.

GUIDANCE

When we consider guidance, we think of planning of the future. While a counsellor does not attempt to predict the future of a student, he does try to help him understand his capacities, his interests, his aptitudes and the occupational opportunities in our rapidly changing world.

Our school has two guidance counsellors, Mr. Beckley and Miss Lohr. Through regularly scheduled guidance classes, group meetings, career conferences, meetings with college representatives, guidance films, and individual conferences, they endeavor to give the student the information which will enable him to plan his future education and career with a greater degree of confidence and understanding.

ART

The selective art classes of our school have attacked many different fields of art. Among these are water colors, oil paintings, designs using contrast, repetition, harmony, and poster projects. The students have also learned proportions of art along with color, form design, and lines.

Our artists of tomorrow

LIBRARY

Would you like to meet people from other worlds — times in History — sections of the country? Come to our seance: The place — our library; the medium — Mrs. Shirk. We do not call on the "spirits" by knocking on wood — we pick a book from the shelves.

Books will carry us from the dawn of history to the sunset of future planetary travel. Pick a time — Pick a place — then Pick a Book.

Activities

We at CTHS believe that we have a complete schedule of extra-curricular activities. We are fortunate in having a number of students with skills above the usual norm

We have dances and parties commemorating the holiday seasons as well as the Valentine Dance and the always popular Prom

Our community is in the heart of the Maple Sugar territory and we always have one of our seniors compete for the title of Maple Queen. Their talents as well as their poise and beauty are factors

Our band and choral groups have won favorable comment after each of their public appearances

The following pictures depict some of the members of the class who have made outstanding contributions to their class, their school and to our memories

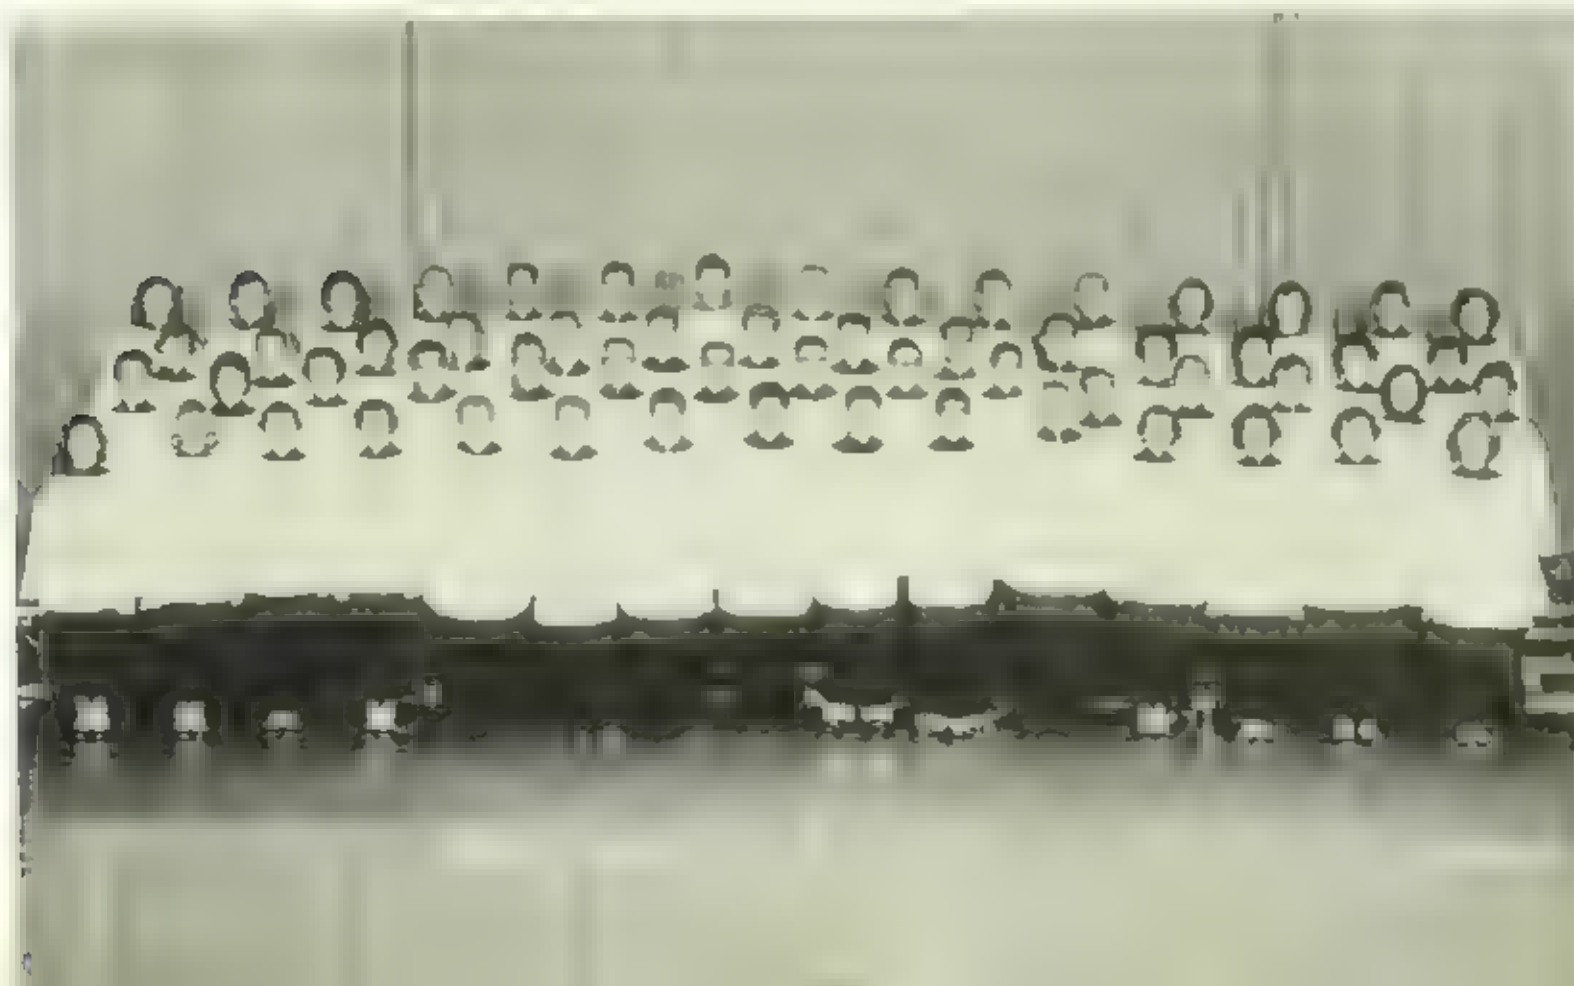

OCTET—Accompanist—Judy Irwin, Bob Brough, Walter Howell, Karen Speicher, Judy Liska, Shirley Kaufman, Roberta Hesse, Joe Stevens, David Smith

THE CONNUMACH STAFF

CONNUMACH

For the Editor, Marie Baroni, and for her able assistants Pearl Baker and Diane Scipione, this was really "THE BIG STORY"

Marie was chosen as the yearbook editor near the end of her junior year. Though actual work did not begin until school opened in September, many hours were spent in contemplation. One plan after another was discarded.

Once we started to go things went quite smoothly—color scheme, theme, cover design, photography, stories. It's all over now. We thank everyone who worked with us and helped us to bring this book to you. But, most important of all, we the CONNUMACH staff hope you like it.

Mr. Dyer gives Marie a few pointers about editing a yearbook.

CONTOWNIAN

CONTOWNIAN — Under the direction of their new advisor, Mr. Paxton, these eager news men scurried to get the CONTOWNIAN to press every week. The reporters gathered information and wrote stories. Typists put the stories on stencil and then the headcutters went to work.

By Friday, the "PO" was a beehive of activity, with everyone rushing to put the finishing touches on the CONTOWNIAN. The bywords of the "PO" were words like "dammy", "head cutters", "goop", "twenty seven", and "fifty-six".

The new staff was announced at the annual press banquet in February. Here senior members of the Staff stepped down from their positions to make room for the underclassmen.

All the editors and assistant-editors, along with Mr. Paxton, helped to keep the paper staff rolling.

A typical Senior High Student Council meeting under the guidance of Mrs. Wonders and Ray Foreback.

Student Council

This year the Student Council was divided into two separate bodies—junior and senior high. They are democratic bodies consisting of representatives from every homeroom. The councils try to promote a better understanding and relationship among the students, faculty, and administration.

Senior High Student Council—As in the past, this group strove to promote goodwill throughout the school. The council sponsors dances and movies. It also publishes the "Scout", the annual handbook. Our Student Council is a member of the National, State, and West Central Pennsylvania Association of Student Councils.

Mrs. Baran and Ray Foreback represented the Council at the State Convention held at Penn State.

Junior High Student Council—This year the junior high had a new division in the Student Council set the pace for the future Junior High Student Councils. They succeeded in establishing their own Constitution and carrying out special projects throughout the year.

The 1976-1977 members of the newly formed Junior High Student Council. Mr. Vozan is the adviser and Betty Danks was the first president.

These advisers have done a good job with supervising the Student Councils with their problems.

Each year the activities are brought to a close with a banquet at Green Gables. Mrs. Kogut is the new sponsor for the C. I. H. S. Thespians.

Pat Miltenberger, Carter James, Charles Suck, Shirley Haysopp, Linda Brigher, and Warren Day star in "Home To Mother".

Christmas Dance

Dancing to the music of the Silver Bells

"Have a present, Carolyn."

Approximately 210 persons attended the Christmas Dance sponsored by the juniors on December 22, 1956. The semi-formal started at eight o'clock and came to an end at eleven. A grand five foot star hanging in the center, a blue ceiling, and blue walls covered with shining stars brought out the "stargazer" theme. Beautifully decorated evergreens were set along the walls of the gym with brilliantly wrapped gifts placed beneath them.

The music for the occasion was provided by the Silver Bells Orchestra and a vocalist.

Refreshments were served at intervals.

Junior-Senior Prom

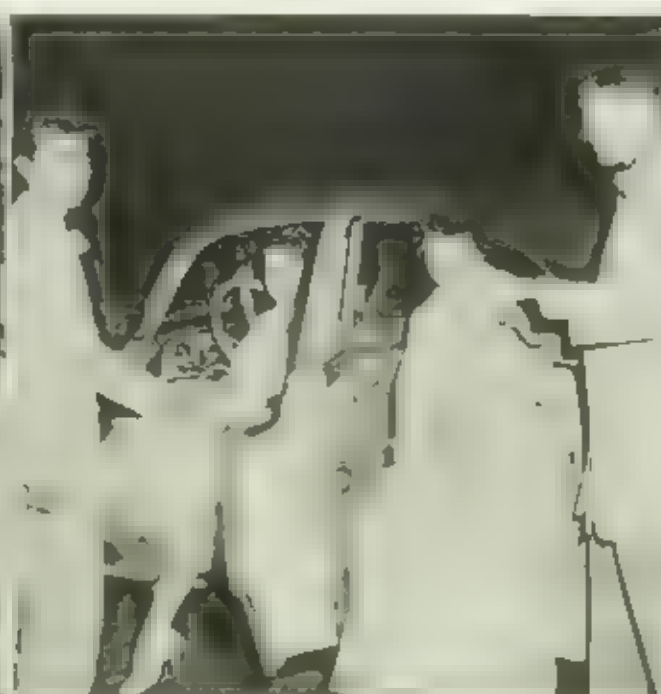

Springtime in Paris, the theme of our Prom, was carried out beautifully with the "Gaiety of Paris" motif, the Eiffel Tower and the Arc de Triomphe. The rock garden, patio, and the park, added the touch of spring and the lovely colors which was needed to captivate the beauty of the evening. The "ahs" and "ohs" was the repayment for the work well done by the Class of '57.

Sports

Sports have been an important part of the program at C.T.H.S. since it opened in 1938. During the 1956-57 year, the athletes have added new lustre to the fine records compiled by preceding classes. Coaches placed great emphasis on sportsmanship and team spirit as well as on the desire to win. Co-operation and team unity, which characterized the football squad, spread to the wrestling, basketball, track, and baseball teams. It is our hope that the high ideals that have been instilled in our athletes will continue to guide them in the coming years.

Football

The past season has brought glory to the Terebusmen. Being small but fast, the Tribe started the season with a tie. After the tie the Redmen defeated four teams before losing a close game with Windber. The Indians returned to defeat the remaining four. This 8-1-1 record brought the Mountain Conference Trophy to the Indian Reservation.

Senior Members

Highlights of the Season

The Indians opened the football season with the camp session and the usual hard work and training. In many respects camp is really the high spot of the school year—new friendships are begun—old ones are cemented, and for the first time we start looking forward to the opening

This year we opened against a new opponent and they proved to be a tough one—each of us felt, however that we did well. Northern Cambria 7—Conemaugh Twp. 7

Boswell, a traditional rival was our second game opponent. We were able to run up a 36-0 score against our neighbors from over the hill.

Game number three was with Ferndale. Everything worked exactly right for us and we clobbered our opponents 41-0.

Central Cambria—a new name but to us the same old Ebensburg fighting ball club. A hard fought game—a well earned victory for us 20-13.

Remember last year? Westmont gave us a good game and beat us. This year we were up. We fought for every inch and for every point—and we won a big one to avenge that last year loss. C.T.H.S. 19—W.U.Y. 0.

A rivalry, keen in every phase of our school activity, C.T.H.S. vs. Windber. The year's biggest crowd, plus the excitement that always exists with the big game of the year.

A real knock-down, drag-out affair—us at half time 7-6. Final score: Windber 12—C.T.H.S. 7. Our first loss, but a disgrace to lose a battle like this one.

A new opponent, DuBois appeared on Memorial Field. They were well-coached and rough. Bouncing back from our loss of the previous week, we added a new trophy to our trophy room a final 34-0 win.

Game number eight was with Adams. The story of the game was not as it used to be. Many, many rough, tough, thrill 'em, spill 'em ball games were played with this school in past campaigns. This year they were rebuilding and we gave them the worst shellacking in our loss series in racking up a 65-6 win.

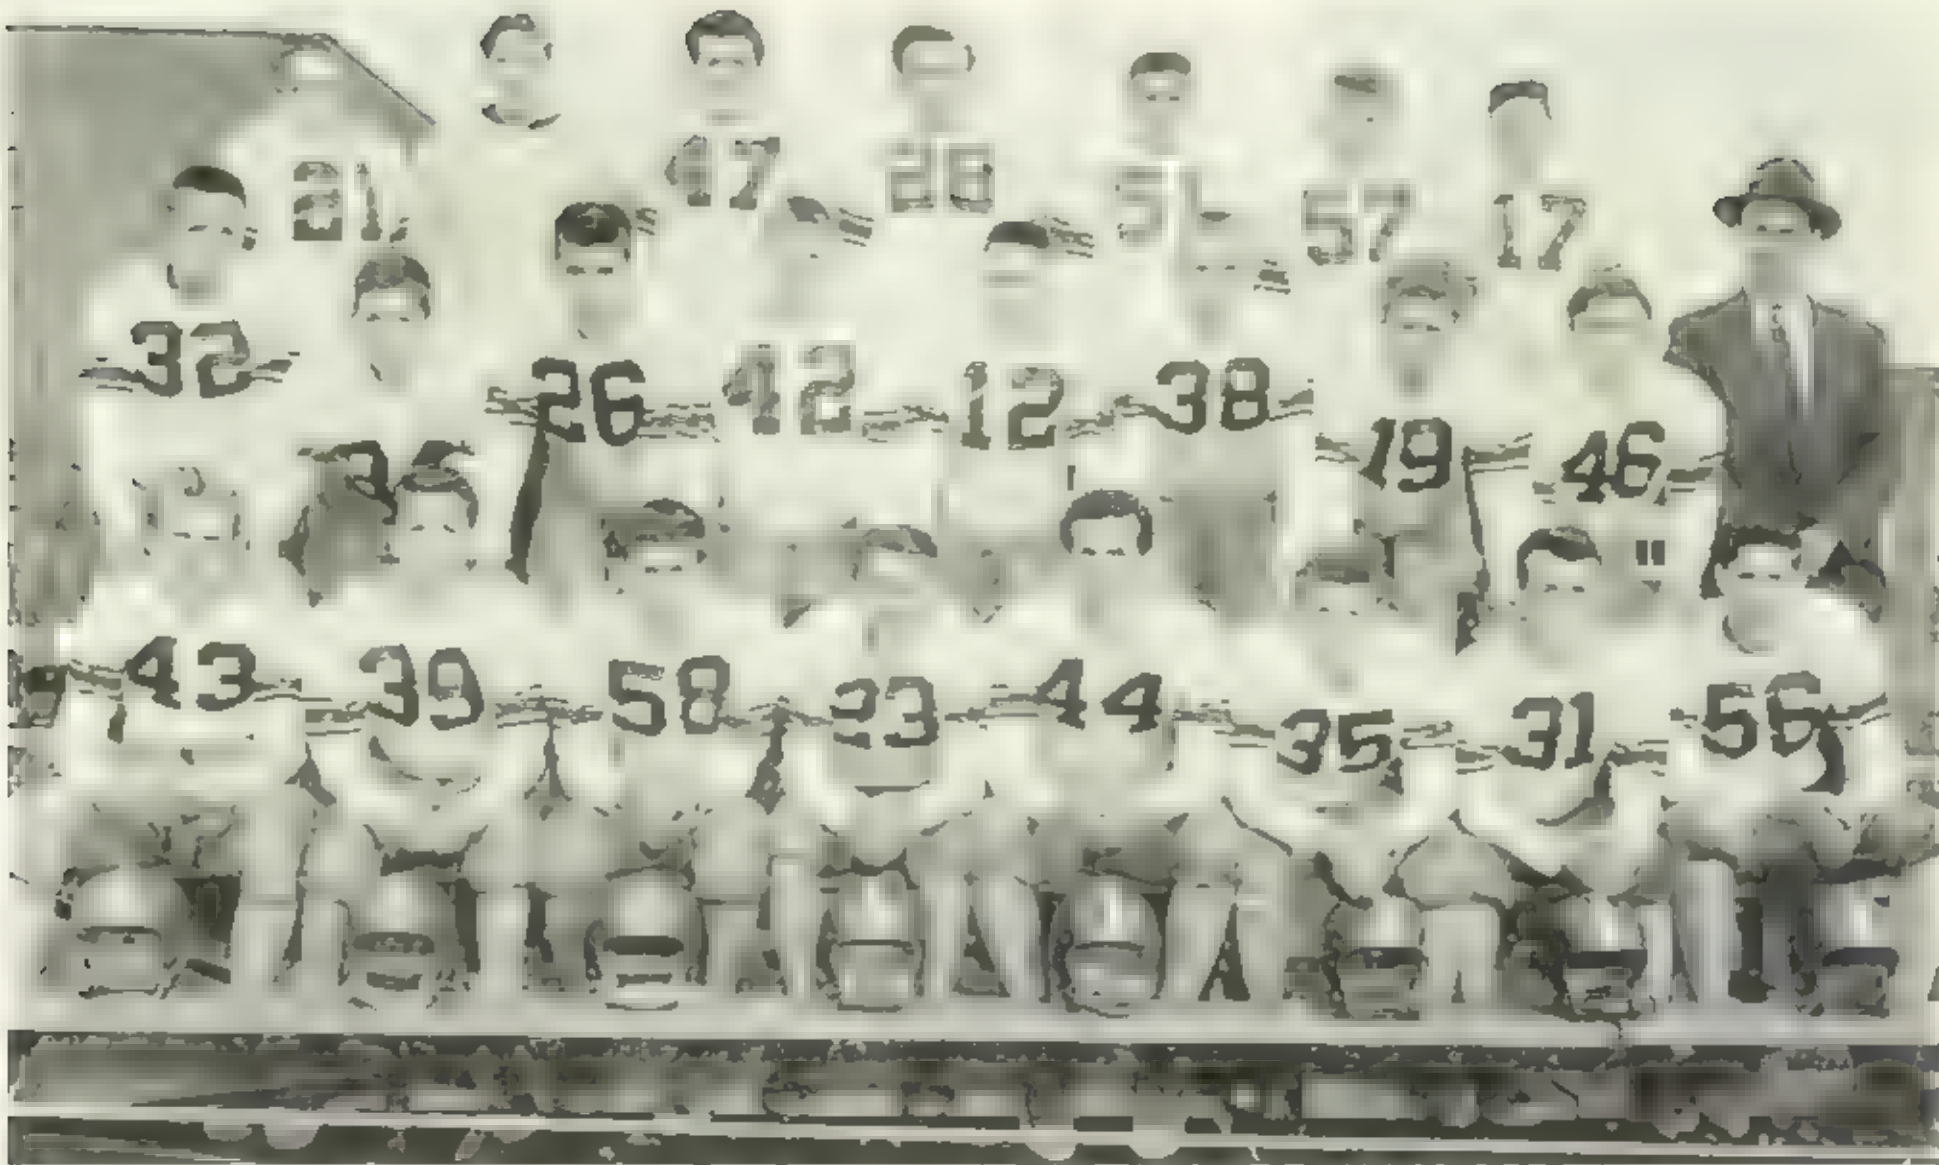

Shade Township in their own back-yard. According to past performances this would be a real donneybrook. The Indians more than rose to the occasion and we brought home a 27-0 win.

The last game of the season was also the last game for fourteen of our varsity squad. They went out in a blaze of glory by beating Somerset High School 27-0.

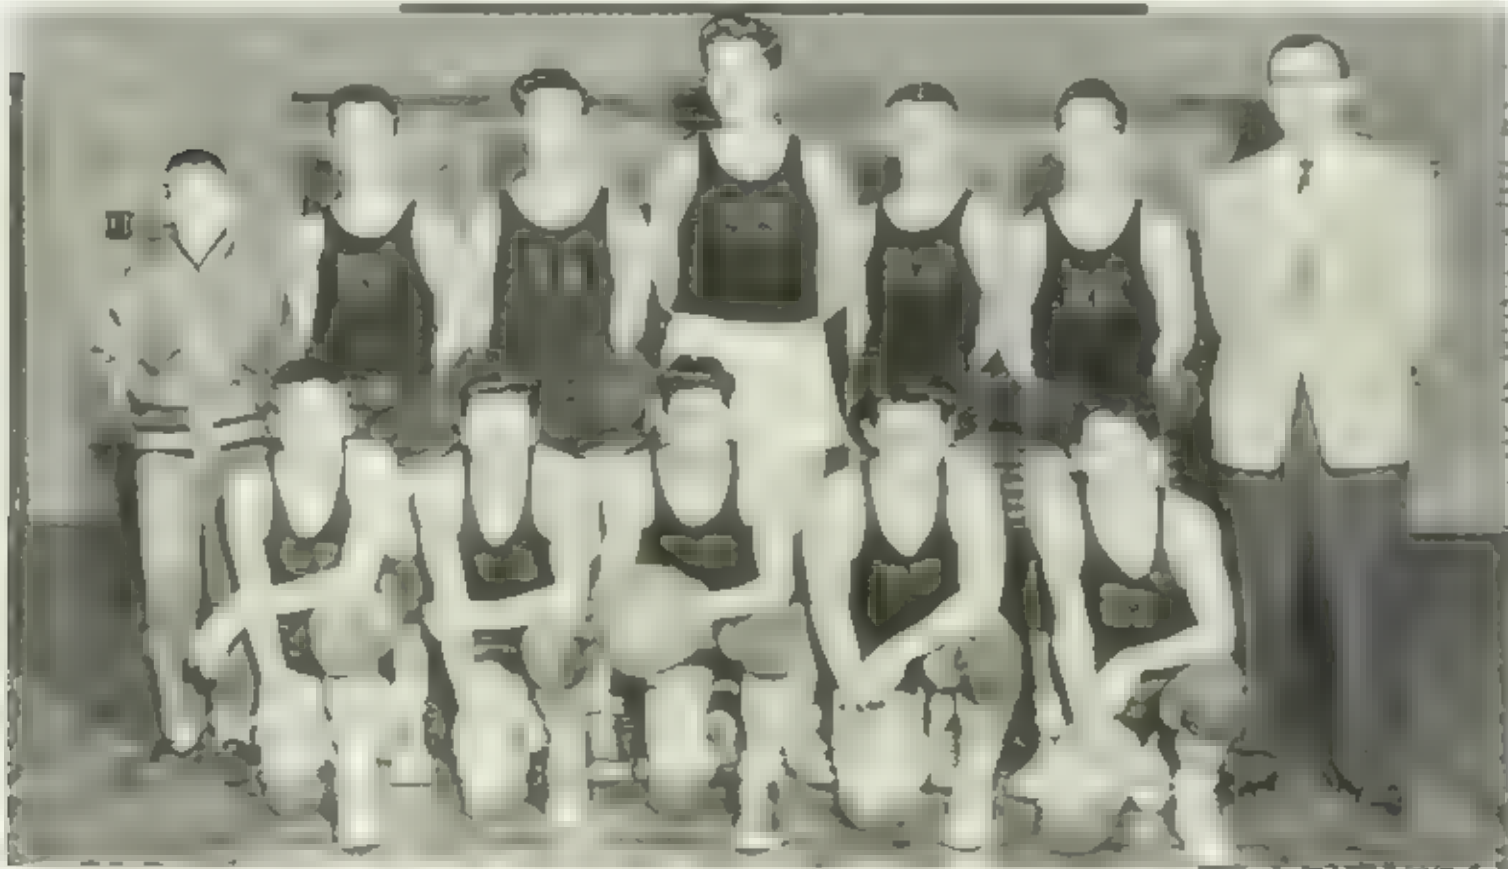

So... What kind of a year was it? A good one we would say—even an excellent one—an eight win, one loss and one tie season bringing home the Mountain Conference Championship.

What kind of a year would you say it was?

Coach Joseph Majer

The hoopsters of Coach Majer had a good year. Although we lacked height, and were in the process of rebuilding, we always put up a fight.

We had our usual thrillers — games won and lost in the last ten seconds. We scored an upset or two, and lost a game here and there that we thought we had won.

The squad competed every second of every quarter, win or lose. We think you did a good job fellows, and we point to you with pride.

Ray Foreback, Roman Ostapiak, Gary Payne, and Daryl Hershberger made their last appearance on the basketball floor when we played Johnstown. But, Jerry Petro, Joe Yunetz, Tom Page, Gary Kaltenbaugh, Walter Starvis, and Pat Shubic will be here to keep the ball bouncing.
